A Multidisciplinary Approach to Prostate Cancer Diagnosis and Treatment

Prostate cancer is one of the most common cancers among men, yet its management is increasingly complex and highly individualized. Due to this, a multidisciplinary approach to care is critical for optimal outcomes.

Join us for a virtual discussion, during Urology Awareness Month, with Dr. Christopher Barbieri, Urologic Oncologist, joined by Dr. Emily Weg, Radiation Oncologist, and Dr. Leen Khoury, Hematologist-Oncologist, for a comprehensive overview of prostate cancer including what it is, how it is diagnosed and the critical roles each team member has in ensuring that the most comprehensive care is provided to each patient.

Presenters:

Christopher Barbieri, M.D., Ph.D.
Professor of Urology
Weill Cornell Medicine

Emily Weg, M.D.
Assistant Professor of Radiation Oncology
